

Crown

Lay the napkin face-down in front of you. Fold the napkin in half diagonally.

Position the napkin so the open ends are pointing away from you. Fold the right corner up. The point rests directly on top of the middle. The edge should lie on the center line. Repeat on the other side. The leftmost corner meets the middle corner.

Fold the bottom of the napkin up about 2/3's of the way and press this fold down well.

Fold the smaller triangle down so the point rests on the near edge of the napkin.

Curl the left and right sides of the napkin up so they meet in the middle and tuck one into the other.

Pull the upper right and left corners down. Stand it up ensure that all parts of the napkin are even and look identical — you can manipulate the napkin by pulling gently on each part of it if necessary.

Rosebud

Lay the napkin face-down. Fold the napkin in half diagonally.

Position the napkin so the open end points away from you. Fold the far right corner up diagonally so that the point rests on top of the far corner. The edge of this new flap should lay right on the centre line.

Repeat step four on the other side, bringing the leftmost corner up to meet the far corner, creating a diamond shape.

Flip the napkin over while keeping the open end pointing away and fold in half.

Flip the napkin over.

Fold both sides up so they meet in the middle.

Tuck one into the other. Stand it up and straighten it out.

Pyramid

Lay the napkin face down. Fold the napkin in half diagonally.

Rotate the napkin so the open end faces away. Fold the right end up to meet the far corner, ensuring the edge of this new fold lays on the centreline as shown.

Repeat the last step with the left side, folding the left tip up to the far corner, creating a diamond shape with a seam running down the centre. Turn the napkin over, keeping the open end facing.

Fold the napkin in half by bringing the farthest point of the diamond up and back to the nearest point. Turn the napkin over again, this time keeping the open end facing towards you.

Fold the napkin along the centre and set it up.

Peacock

Open the napkin into a square shape and fold it in half.

Fold it in half again to make a square.

Fold the first layer like an accordion with a distance of 1 cm.

Turn the napkin around and fold it in half over the centre line.

Fixate the napkin firmly and fold the now visible edge.

Tuck the right and left side in each other so that a nice round form remains.

Tuxedo

Lay the napkin face-down. Fold the napkin in half diagonally.

Fold the bottom part of the triangle up for 4 cm.

Make sure that the fold runs in a curved line to bottom of the napkin and not a straight fold (this will form the collar of the tuxedo).

Turn around the napkin and fold the right side down.

Do the same thing with the left side and flip the napkin over.

Fold the left side again to the middle against the inside fold. Make sure that the upper edge is in one line with the now visible collar. Repeat the same process on the right side.

Fold the bottom corners up twice.

Fixate the napkin firmly and set it up as a standing shirt.

Double fan

Open the napkin completely and fold the upper and lower quarter to the middle.

Lay the napkin in accordion-like stripes. Be very exact. On the lower border there is a simple zigzag line, on the upper a double one.

Hold the napkin tight in the hand. Pull out of every single fan a triangle-like piece downwards.

Do the same on the back side.

Press the napkin boldly after every single task.

To finish, open the fan.

Cockscomb (bird of paradise)

Open the napkin into a square shape and fold it in half.

Fold it in half again to make a square (quarter of origin napkin).

Rotate the square so that it now forms a diamond shape. Make sure the four single folds are at the bottom of the diamond.

Turn the napkin around. Fold the bottom corner of the diamond to the top corner. There is a triangular shape.

Take the right side of the triangle and fold it over on to the centre line. Do the same with the left side.

Tuck the two lower triangles under the main triangle.

Fold the two triangles down from the centre line and hold it together. The four single folds should now be on top and at the peak of this fold.

Hold this narrow fold firmly, ensuring the four folds are away. In turn, pull each single fold up and towards you.
